NYMTC Announces Drafts for Four Major Transportation Actions for Public Review

Learn What's Happening in Your Neighborhood, Send Us Your Comments, and Contribute to the Future of Our Region

NEW YORK, May 29, 2025 – Starting June 2, the New York Metropolitan Transportation Council (NYMTC) will release four important transportation planning actions that will help advance the future of New York City, Long Island, and the Lower Hudson Valley. The development of these products reflects a vision shared by all NYMTC members in its 10-county planning area, as well as local and federal agencies/partners.

The public is invited to learn more about these significant strategies and get involved in guiding key transportation initiatives proposed for our region during the public comment periods and virtual public meetings that will explain them in detail.

On June 2, NYMTC's draft Transportation Improvement Program (TIP) for 2026-2030 will be available on nymtc.org. The TIP outlines federally funded transportation projects over a five-year period, including transit, roads, bridges, and other transportation improvements. As part of the TIP, NYMTC will release an interactive tool that maps the locations of planned projects to enable public exploration of proposed improvements in all NYMTC communities. More than 1,000 of transportation projects, studies, and research are included in the TIP amounting to over $30 billion.

Also available starting June 2 is NYMTC's draft Transportation Conformity Determination. This document confirms that all transportation projects are aligned with New York State's air quality goals to ensure the safety and cleanliness of our communities.

Beginning June 30, NYMTC's draft *Moving Forward 2055 plan will be available for public review and comment. Moving Forward 2055 is NYMTC's long-range transportation plan to improve access, safety, and efficiency across all modes of surface transportation in New York City, Long Island, and the Lower Hudson Valley from 2026 through 2055. NYMTC's draft 2025 Congestion Management Process (CMP) Status Report will be available for public review and comment on the same day. The 2025 CMP Status Report forecasts regional traffic congestion and outlines strategies to reduce it, utilizing demand management, system operation, multimodal investments, and more.

Important Public Information for Moving Forward 2055 and the 2025 CMP Status Report:

- Public Comment Period: June 30 through July 30 on nymtc.org

"This summer, the public will have the unique opportunity to learn about and comment on proposed transportation actions that will impact the neighborhoods where they live, work and play," said Adam S. Levine, executive director of NYMTC. "We're providing public webinars, intuitive mapping tools, illustrations, and more to facilitate public review. We hope everyone in our planning region takes advantage of the opportunity to voice their comments. We want to hear from you!"

ABOUT NYMTC

NYMTC is the federally mandated council of governments that directs the use of billions of dollars in federal transportation funds for New York City, Long Island, and the Lower Hudson Valley. As the area's Metropolitan Planning Organization (MPO), NYMTC provides a collaborative planning forum that addresses transportation-related issues and develops regional plans and goals through a shared vision for its regional transportation network. NYMTC has nine voting members and seven advisory members representing 2,440 square miles and serving a population of 13 million – approximately 65% of New York State's residents. Between fiscal years 2023-2027, over 1,000 transportation projects will be funded in the NYMTC region totaling $36.9 billion.
